

OTOSCOPE Quarterly

A publication for friends and colleagues of Jefferson's Department of Otolaryngology– Head & Neck Surgery

Welcome Caitlin C. McLean, MD

We are pleased to welcome Caitlin C. McLean, MD, Associate Professor of Otolaryngology – Head & Neck Surgery, to the department effective November 1, 2024. Dr. McLean will practice Comprehensive Otolaryngology at our Yardley, Pennsylvania office and at our newest location in Washington Township, New Jersey.

Dr. McLean earned an undergraduate degree from Georgetown University in Washington, DC. She earned her medical degree from Georgetown University School of Medicine, in 2008. Dr. McLean completed her Otolaryngology residency training at the University of Rochester Medical Center in Rochester, NY. She went on to complete a Rhinology and Skull Base Surgery Fellowship at the University of Texas Southwestern Medical Center in Dallas, TX.

Following her fellowship in 2014, Dr. McLean joined the faculty of Temple University's Department of Otolaryngology – Head and Neck Surgery.

"I grew up nearby in Jenkintown, Pennsylvania where I was a "lifer" in the Jenkintown School System and a multi-sport athlete. I matriculated at Georgetown University where I played field hockey in the fall and lacrosse in the spring and was recently inducted into the Georgetown Athletic Hall of Fame in 2021 for lacrosse. I continued playing lacrosse for the US Women's lacrosse Developmental Team while working at Hobart and William Smith Colleges in Geneva, NY as an assistant lacrosse coach. During this time, I fell in love with upstate NY and I met my now husband (Steve) who was completing his PhD in pharmacology at Georgetown University, so I returned to the Hilltop for medical school. Upon graduation from Georgetown University School of Medicine, I did my residency at the University of Rochester where I shared my love for upstate NY with my husband, followed by a fellowship in Rhinology and Skull base surgery at the University of Texas Southwestern Medical Center. We returned home to Philadelphia to be closer to family and I joined Temple University's Lewis Katz School of Medicine where I served as Residency Program Director and Director of Rhinology. I enjoy being a mom and all outdoor activities that tire out our 3 young children. I'm constantly on the move: my walking is a jog for most, the residents' thought rounding was a workout in the hospital, and my patients could always hear me coming. I enjoy barre class when I can, and if I wasn't a physician I'd be an interior decorator and stylist. I enjoy fashion, design, entertaining, and making a comfortable and cozy home to share with my family and friends. As a family we enjoy exploring the Finger Lakes and Adirondacks and showing our kids our old haunts and finding new ones together. We live in Glenside, PA near both our families who dote on our boy/girl twins Enzo and Nola (newly 8) and son Stefano (recently turned 5)."

★ CONGRATULATIONS TO ALL ★ WE APPRECIATE YOUR CONTRIBUTIONS ★

Honoring Excellence

Jefferson Health proudly celebrated the outstanding contributions of our Advanced Practice Clinicians (APCs), who play a vital role in advancing both nursing and medicine across the health system. In recognition of National APC Week, held at the end of September, Jefferson hosted the annual APC Excellence Awards to honor this exceptional and dedicated workforce. Congratulations to all of this year's award winners, including Edmund A. Pribitkin, MD, MBA, honored with the APC Champion Award. We extend our deepest gratitude to all our APCs for the remarkable work you do to improve lives!

Hats Off to Jason Tasoulas, MD, DMD, PhD

We are thrilled to share that Jason Tasoulas, MD, DMD, PhD (PGY1) has successfully completed his PhD thesis defense! While the defense was held privately with the committee, consisting of Dr. Amelio (Moffitt, previously UNC), Dr. Divaris (UNC), and five esteemed faculty members from the University of Athens, the presentation was well received, earning an outstanding grade of excellent! In the acknowledgements section, Jason made sure to include his Jeff family, highlighting the support received throughout this journey. Congratulations again Jason for this remarkable achievement!

Congratulations to Troy

We are excited to share that Troy DeRose, CRNP spoke at the Society for Otorhinolaryngology and Head & Neck Nurses (SOHN) 48th Annual Congress and Educational Symposium, held from October 18–21, 2024, where he presented on the Leech Protocol for Free Flap Patients. In addition to delivering this impactful presentation, Troy was honored with the prestigious SOHN Honor Award, recognizing his exceptional contributions and dedication to the field.

Congrats to Maya Childs, CCRP!

We would like to congratulate our clinical research coordinator, Maya Childs, for achieving her Certified Clinical Research Professional (CCRP) designation through the Society of Clinical Research Associates. This accomplishment highlights Maya's dedication to excellence in clinical research and her commitment to advancing her expertise in the field.

H&N Cancer Alliance Survivorship Symposium

Jefferson served as host to the 2024 Head & Neck Cancer Alliance Survivorship Symposium which was held on Saturday, October 5, 2024. The symposium brought expert head and neck surgeons from all over the country to our campus to address survivorship issues faced by patients with head and neck cancer. The symposium gathered over 200 in person attendees and 700 online attendees including patients, survivors, caregivers, and healthcare professionals for a day filled with insightful presentations and discussions! Friend of the department, David Caldarella and David Cognetti, MD served as co-hosts for the event that featured participants from all four major cancer centers in our regions: Sydney Kimmel Comprehensive Cancer Center at Jefferson, Abramson Cancer Center at Penn, Fox Chase Cancer Center at Temple, and MD Anderson Cancer Center at Cooper.

Key highlights included an impactful session on mental wellness moderated by Arielle Thal, MD and an engaging lunch table discussion led by Tara DiFabio, CRNP, on understanding HPV-attributed oropharyngeal cancer. Attendees left the symposium with practical tools and a sense of community, empowered to navigate the complexities of life after head and neck cancer. A special shout out to Ariel Levine for working with Amanda Hollinger and Eileen Sexton from the Head and Neck Cancer Alliance to bring this event to Jefferson and making it a huge success!

Dr. Cognetti Welcomes Patients in King of Prussia

We are thrilled to share that David Cognetti, MD held his first clinic day at our new outpatient office location in King of Prussia, PA on Tuesday, October 8, 2024 and it was a resounding success! Dr. Cognetti saw 14 patients, all of whom were excited and grateful to have access to care closer to home.

This expansion into the King of Prussia area marks a significant milestone in our mission to provide exceptional medical care to our growing patient community. We are excited about the opportunities this new location offers and look forward to continued growth and success.

A heartfelt thank you to our incredible clinical team—Amy Wotlinski, Kathy Konieczny, Kanisha Anderson, and Annie Moroco, MD (PGY5) — who traveled to support this launch. We are also grateful to our dedicated non-clinical staff, including Katie Logan, Zhata Nixon, and Porsha Nixon, for their excellent front desk support alongside our new King of Prussia colleagues.

Finally, a special shout-out to Carrie Jamison, Brittany Buzzetto, Ariel Levine, Mary Costa, and Danielle DeMaio-DeAngelis for their behind-the-scenes efforts to make this initiative possible.

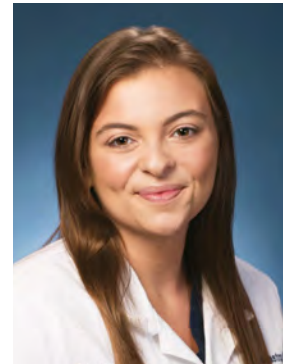

Happening at Lehigh Valley!

Joshua Scharf, MD and Aileen Love, MD (Pulmonary) from Lehigh Valley Health Network gave a great talk on Wednesday, October 9, 2024 on the Medical and Surgical Management of Sleep Apnea.

Meritorious Poster Recognition for Audiology Research

We are excited to announce that the poster titled "Self-Referral vs Physician Referral: Hearing Aid Adoption Rates and Perceptions of Prospective Hearing Aid Users" has been recognized as a Meritorious Poster Submission to be presented at the 2024 American Speech-Language-Hearing Association (ASHA) Convention! Out of 1,418 poster submissions, only 61 were selected for this honor. Congratulations to PI, Irina Middleton, AuD and co-investigators Natalie Snyder, BS, Anna Bixler, AuD, Jacob Hunter, MD and Karla Belcastro, AuD. Their poster, under the topic area of Dispensing and Business Practice Management: Audiology, received top ratings and will be presented in a virtual format. L to R: Irina Middleton, AuD; Natalie Snyder, BS; Anna Bixler, AuD; Jacob Hunter, MD; and Karla Belcastro, AuD.

Anatomic Changes

Empowering Future SLPs

Sarah Adams and Jenna MacKenzie taught the SLP Graduate Cohort a course on 'Head and Neck Cancer: The SLP's Role in Managing Swallowing and Communication.' The session included an engaging evening where three laryngectomees shared their experiences with the class, providing valuable interaction between patients and students.

Annual Clerf Lecture

The Annual Louis H. Clerf Lecture in Otolaryngology - Head & Neck Surgery was held on Wednesday, October 16, 2024. We were pleased to have Matthew L. Carlson, MD from Mayo Clinic as our visiting lecturer. Dr. Carlson's talk "Size Threshold Surveillance in Vestibular Schwannoma" was enjoyed by all in attendance.

Exciting News Jersey!

A ribbon cutting and open house for the Jefferson Primary and Specialty Care – Fish Pond Road, at 354 Hurffville-Cross Keys Road in Sewel, NJ was held on October 24, 2024. This is the future home of Jefferson Otolaryngology's newest outpatient office! At this location, featuring comprehensive otolaryngology and hearing services, Caitlin McLean, MD and Colleen Collins, NP, along with the audiology team, will see patients. Danielle Demaio-DeAngelis joined Edmund Pribitkin, MD, MBA and other Jefferson leaders at the Fish Pond Ribbon Cutting and Open House.

Pitch Perfect

Rebecca Chiffer, MD attended the MED-EL Summit: US Customer Conference, held in Innsbruck, Austria, from October 8 through 10, 2024. The conference included sessions covering advanced topics such as Synchrotron technology, robotics, OTOPLAN, and FLEX electrodes. This was followed by Dr. Chiffer engaging in a hands-on workshop, as well as participating in both a programming roundtable and a music roundtable. The discussions then continued with a roundtable on single-sided deafness and the day concluded with a closing reception at AudioVersum, an interactive science museum in Innsbruck dedicated to the science of hearing and sound!

Bicentennial Ball!

David Kennedy, MD, Elina Toskala, MD, PhD, MBA, David Cognetti, MD and Melissa Cognetti, MD attended Jefferson's Bicentennial Ball at the National Constitution Center on Saturday, October 26, 2024, in celebration of the 200th anniversary of the founding of Jefferson Medical College by Dr. George McClellan.

Advancing Patient Care, Insights from the AAFPRS Conference

The Fall 2024 American Academy of Facial Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery conference brought together a vibrant mix of professionals, including our very own Ryan Heffelfinger, MD, Howard Krein, MD, PhD, Khashayer Arianpour, MD (F'25) and Uche Nwagu, MD (PGY4) along with the familiar faces of Eric Barbarite, MD (F '23), Aarti Agarwal, MD (R '24) and Neha Garg (RF '24). Designed to address the educational needs of practicing physicians, residents, advanced practice providers, and front-office staff, the conference offered sessions packed with clinical insights and the latest scientific advancements.

Dr. Cottrill attends ATA Meeting

Elizabeth Cottrill, MD attended the American Thyroid Association Annual Meeting from October 30 through November 3, 2024 in Chicago. At this conference, Dr. Cottrill taught neck ultrasound, gave a lecture on surgical management of Graves Disease and co-chaired the surgical symposium. She was heavily involved in the programming of this year's meeting via the program committee and was selected to co-chair the program committee for the 2025 ATA meeting! Marcia Brose, MD of Medical Oncology was also in attendance.

Dr. Toskala's Insights at FCOM

Elina Toskala, MD, PhD, MBA traveled to Florida from November 8-10, 2024 to participate in the prestigious Florida Combined Otolaryngology Annual Meeting, where she presented on the Disease Drivers of Chronic Rhinosinusitis with Nasal Polyposis (CRSwNP). She also joined an expert panel on Biologics and Immunotherapy, collaborating with Drs. Camysha Wright, Sarah Wise, and Pamela Baines in discussing innovative treatments for CRSwNP and related conditions.

FCOM is a leading conference that unites specialists from the Florida Society of Otolaryngology-Head and Neck Surgery, the Florida Society of Facial Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery, and other professional networks. Each year, it showcases advancements across otolaryngology, plastic surgery, allergy, and audiology, fostering valuable interdisciplinary connections and insights.

Hearing the Future

Carley Cuzzacrea, AuD, Lauren Lucas, AuD and Keira Mehigan, AuD attended the “Maximizing Performance in Cochlear Implant Recipients: Programming Concepts” conference hosted by New York University on November 17–18, 2024. This course addressed topics related to routine and special programming issues and methods in pediatric and adult recipients. It also presented new and promising techniques to assist in bimodal programming. Special consideration was given to the management of the pediatric patient, SSD, and remote care. Format included lectures, roundtable discussions, audience participation, and dedicated time for participants to visit manufacturer technology suites.

Dr. Lauren Lucas was invited to speak during an Advanced Bionics dinner, where she shared Jefferson’s pioneering success with remote cochlear implant programming. This recognition underscores the department’s commitment to shaping the future of hearing care.

Oto Standing Ovation

Ravi Samy, MD, Chief of LVHN/Jefferson OHNS, recently participated in the Mayo Clinic OtoFest 2024, held at the Mayo Clinic. This annual event unites otolaryngology experts from around the world to share groundbreaking research, best practices, and advancements in the field. Reflecting on his experience, Dr. Samy shared, “It was a tremendous honor to connect with faculty and residents and to deliver my presentation, “Mastering Temporal Bone Surgery: 25 Years of Blood, Sweat, and Tears.” Congratulations, Dr. Samy, keep inspiring, teaching, and leading the way!

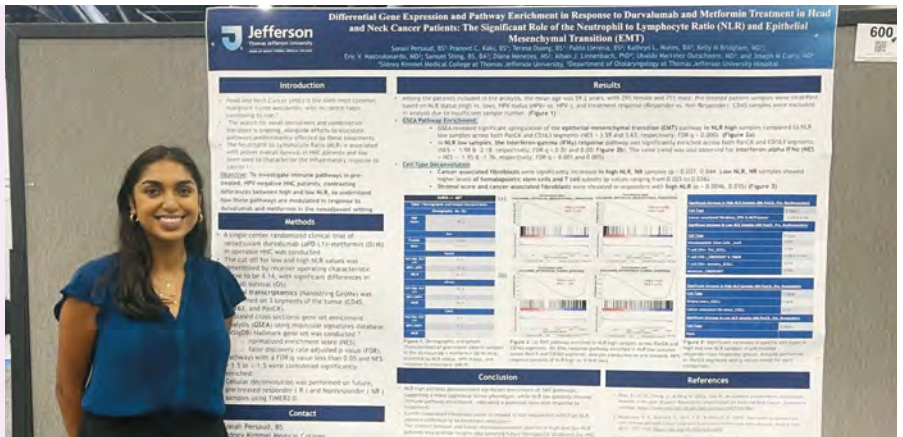

Building the Future of Care

In August 2024, Jefferson Health and Lehigh Valley Health Network (LVHN) proudly announced their new partnership, marking the start of an exciting journey to shape the future of care in eastern Pennsylvania. This collaboration welcomes an outstanding team from LVHN into our Oto family. On December 2, 2024, David Cognetti, MD and Danielle DeMaio-DeAngelis had the privilege of touring many of the LVHN locations including Dickson City, Scranton, Pocono, and Allentown, and greatly appreciated the enthusiasm and hospitality shown by our new colleagues. Special thanks to Ravi Samy, MD, Chief of Otolaryngology - Head and Neck Surgery at Lehigh Valley for his help in orchestrating a great day! We look forward to deepening our partnership!

Highlights from SITC 2024

Joseph Curry, MD and Sidney Kimmel Medical College student Sonali Persaud represented our department at the Society for Immunotherapy of Cancer (SITC) Annual Meeting in Houston, held from November 6–10, 2024. Posters were presented on three of our head and neck cancer trials.

Sneeze the Day in Georgia

Elina Toskala, MD, PhD, MBA and David Kennedy, MD represented our department as guest speakers at the Georgia Society of Otolaryngology Annual Meeting, held in Greensboro, GA, from December 6–8, 2024. Their expertise and insights contributed to the success of this esteemed gathering.

Sleep Disorders Webinar

On December 5, 2024, Colin Huntley, MD and Maurits Boon, MD co-hosted a webinar designed to share important information for patients interested in learning more about sleep disorders and options for addressing them. The webinar can be viewed on the Jefferson Health YouTube channel here <https://tinyurl.com/JeffWellnessWebinarSeries>

Women in Oto Holiday

On December 4, 2024, our Annual Women in Oto Holiday Event was held! We're continually inspired by the incredible women in our department and feel so fortunate to work with such an amazing group!

Special shout to Rebecca Chiffer, MD who graciously hosted this event with special guest, new mama, Meghan Crippen, MD.

Audiologists in Action

From December 5–7, 2024, Olivia Giglio, AuD and Jake Hulswit, AuD attended the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association (ASHA) Conference in Seattle. Representing our audiology team, they connected with peers and explored advancements in speech, language, and hearing sciences. Thank you both for showcasing our dedication to excellence on a national stage!

Dr. Luginbuhl Represents in Cincinnati

Adam Luginbuhl, MD was honored to deliver a Grand Rounds lecture at the University of Cincinnati on December 11, 2024. Invited by Alice Tang, MD and Chad Zender, MD, Dr. Luginbuhl shared his insights on the important topic: "Culture of Training – How Errors Shape Us". Congratulations to Dr. Luginbuhl on this prestigious opportunity and for representing our department so well!

Giving Back

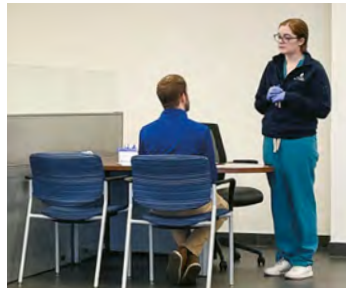

Annual Walk4Hearing

The Walk 4 Hearing was a resounding success, bringing together participants of all ages to raise awareness and funds for those affected by hearing loss. Held on Sunday, October 20, 2024 at the Philadelphia Navy Yard, the event featured a lively atmosphere filled with enthusiasm and community spirit! With walkers and generous support from many of you, our department raised awareness and over $2,500 for critical programs and services that improve the lives of individuals with hearing loss. Participants enjoyed a beautiful day filled with activities, education, and a sense of togetherness and a wonderful rendition of the National Anthem by Olivia Giglio, AuD. Thank you to everyone who joined us in making a difference, and we look forward to seeing you next year!

H&N Screening Event Community Outreach Success

On Wednesday, October 16, 2024, our team conducted a successful Head and Neck Cancer Screening event at Ciocca Subaru, located at 1400 S. 33rd Street, Philadelphia. Over the course of the event, which ran from 11 am to 3 pm, more than 30 patients were screened. This effort was part of our ongoing commitment to early detection and community outreach, ensuring that individuals at risk have access to vital screening services. Thank you to all who participated and helped make this event a success!

Making an Impact

The Torresdale Head and Neck Cancer Screening event, held on Saturday, October 19, 2024 was a tremendous success, with over 83 patients screened by the medical team and an additional 43 patients screened by Audiology! We are proud to recognize the efforts of our dedicated residents, fellows, students, faculty, and Audiology team who volunteered their time. A heartfelt thank you to everyone on our team for their outstanding work in making this event such a success.

Day of Service

Midori Wakabayashi, AuD participated in the Jefferson Day of Service at Philabundance to pack 7,000 emergency food bags on December 20, 2024. This was the last part of the Jefferson 200 Project to exceed 200,000 volunteer hours. Approximately 120 people attended from all over the region, including the Lehigh Valley area. The work was non-stop-two hours of packaging in a standing position with some danceable music. We all had fun, some workouts, and a meaningful time. She commented, "Since I had to set back from my normal life for multiple weeks this year due to my health hiatus, I feel very grateful to be back to my life and even be on the supporting side." You can find volunteer opportunities through Jefferson at the bottom of the enterprise's weekly news!

Heartwarming Success

This year's ENT Adopt-A-Family program was a heartwarming success! Thanks to the overwhelming generosity of our colleagues, we raised a record $965. With these funds, we were able to fulfill every item on the patients' "Wishlists," bringing smiles and joy to their holiday season. Special thanks to everyone who contributed to making this possible. Together, we've made a meaningful difference for these families, creating cherished memories and spreading the holiday spirit.

A Heartfelt Thank You

Hillary Watros would like to extend her deepest gratitude to everyone who contributed to this year's Children Without Parents Toy Drive. Thanks to your incredible generosity, we've made a significant impact on the lives of 350 children in our community!
